Westerly Physicians Take Chances

Medical Association and Guests Brave Indigestion at Annual Clambake—Gongs and Eells Silenced—Lid on Tight at Quonochontaug—Post Office Project Advanced a Peg.

The police committee of the Westerly town council, in addition to their duty of suppressing the sale of liquor, is busy in other directions. There is an old ordinance that provides for the prohibition of the ringing of bells and gongs in the public streets and orders have been issued to ice cream vendors to discontinue the use of gongs in announcing their presence to customers. So these ice cream peddlers have substituted the megaphone, which is even more obnoxious than the musical bells and gongs. Some of the ice cream men are liable to contest the legality of the police order on the ground of discrimination, for no such order has been issued against the trolley car gongs, or even sleigh bells.

The police committee has also issued orders for the removal from the sidewalks of those Hittie-A-shaped advertising signs of which there were not half a dozen in the town. These matters have not been delegated to the police force, but are attended to personally by the police committee.

This same committee has ordered that the Quonochontaug trolley cars, while waiting for schedule starting time, shall stand no more in front of the waiting room, but must run up the extension, beyond the crossing in West Broad street at the foot of the Norwich-Westery cars were issued some time ago.

The Charlestown town council has decided to screw the lid down tight on the liquor traffic that has been carried on at Quonochontaug, the summer resort of the town, and which includes in its summer residents several from Norwich. Robert Browning of Cross Mills, has been appointed liquor constable and he has issued orders for the closing of the places where it was alleged liquors were being sold, and made protest against the conditions at Quonochontaug, claiming that the selling of liquor in that section of the town would have the effect of ruining the local industry as summer resort. The delegation was given assurance that cognizance would be taken of the protest and that the selling of liquor at Quonochontaug would be stopped. Constable Browning will insist on strict enforcement of the liquor law.

The bid for the site of the proposed postoffice building in Westerly has finally reached its turn for action in the treasury department, although many of the acceptance of the bid was rejected by the trustees of the Hannah B. W. Brown estate some months ago. The purchase of the site has now been made. It includes the present postoffice building site and additional land owned by the estate and the Brown homestead, now occupied by Herman Dock and family.

Our Best Governed City.
Cleveland's claim of being the "best governed city in the country" was certainly well supported by the manner in which its citizens celebrated the recent centennial of the city. Although throughout the country 47 persons were killed and more than 2,400 injured in Independence day celebrations and over $700,000 worth of property was destroyed, nobody was killed or injured in Cleveland and no buildings there were burned by fireworks explosions. This was a great improvement on Cleveland's last year's record, when 10 persons were killed and 62 injured, and set the whole country a fine example. The city's community from Fourth of July's casualties this year was due to the fact that the safe and explosion of fireworks and firecrackers had been positively prohibited, and not only was there an entire lack of accidents, but also the people

President Taft's Views ON TARIFF ACT.
Says It Is a Sincere Effort of the Party for Downward Revision.

Washington, Aug. 5.—President Taft tonight gave out a statement embodying his views of the new tariff act, which he described as a "sincere effort of the party for downward revision."

The president says that, though the bill is not perfect by any means, it is a complete compliance with the promise made at the time of the election, and that he is satisfied with the result.

"The bill is not a perfect tariff bill, or a complete compliance with the promises made, strictly interpreted, but a fulfillment free from criticism in respect to a subject matter involving many schedules and thousands of articles could not be expected."

"There have been a great number of real decreases in rates, and they constitute a sufficient amount to justify the statement that this bill is a substantial downward revision, and a reduction of excessive rates."

"This is not a free trade bill. It was not intended to be. The republicans did not promise to make a free trade bill."

"It promised to make the rates protective, but to reduce them when they exceeded the difference between the cost of production abroad and here, making allowance for the greater normal profit on active investments here."

"The power granted to the executive under the maximum and minimum clause may be exercised to secure the removal of obstacles which have been interposed by foreign governments in the way of undue and unfair discrimination against American merchandise and products."

"The Philippine tariff section I have struggled to secure for the ten years last past, as it gratifies me exceedingly by my signature to give it the effect of law."

"The administration clauses of the bill and the customs courts are admirably adapted to secure a more uniform and a more speedy final construction of the meaning of the law."

"The corporation tax is a just and equitable excise measure, which it is hoped will produce a sufficient amount to prevent deficit and which incidentally will secure valuable statistics and information concerning the many corporations of the country and will constitute an important step toward that degree of publicity and regulation which the tendency in corporate enterprises in the last twenty years has shown to be necessary."

SIGNS OF PROSPERITY.
Large Contracts Being Awarded to Manufacturing Companies.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 5.—Not since the boom times of 1904-7 have the rush of new orders been so great, or the force of men so large as at present with the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company. New business for July amounted to $2,000,000 or at the rate of $26,000,000 for the year. Additional men have been put to work for every week of the month past.

The Chicago City Railways company sent a contract last week for an order of 1,400 motors for use on trolley cars. This is only one of many good orders booked.

Structural steel companies of the city also are well supplied with new business. The McClinton-Marshall Construction company has taken the contract for the fabricating and erecting of a railroad terminal in Kansas City which will require some fifteen
